Above: Design for the Recycling Point for Luck and Wishes showing good luck symbols, and places to deposit coins to make a wish.

The world's first Recycling Point for Luck and Wishes is the constant, interactive element of the artwork that has been 3D printed in titanium. The recycling point invites people to make a wish by putting a penny into one of the holders. People can also remove someone else's coin to take away as a good luck token.