

From spring till autumn, the path is mostly used by runners and bikers, and after it snows, it turns into a cross-country skiing route. The path itself is one of the most important projects which involves the revitalisation of public space in Warsaw.