Rakova Jelša town park is a step on the path of connecting Ljubljana and Landscape park Barje. It could be perceived as a reminder of all of the important and unique natural treasures that lie at hand to the inhabitants of Ljubljana. New interventions attract and educate new type of visitors that appreciate and occupy the area in a more sustainable manner. New public space is also the first and only public space for Rakova jelša neighbourhood. With the new minimal intervention, formerly degraded area of Barje is opened to the public, revived and relinked to the city centre.
