

Charlottes great grandchild was giving a speech at the inauguration.

The red string is cut by representatives of the local community.

In the Spring of 2017 craftsmen completed the final details on The Charlotte Bench that has a graphic concrete print of the portrait of Charlotte on the one side and on the other side a list of historical events engraved in the concrete.

The bench was inaugurated in April 2017 with a ceremony with people from Hedehusene as well as Charlott kvarteret. Classical musicians played music of the famous Rued Langgaard who was one of Charlottes grandchildren. Some of the residents cut the red ribbon and speeches were given. One of the speakers was the great grandchild of Charlotte.

The bench now stands as a monument at the entrance of Charlott kvarteret.

