

An empty shop becomes a place for new imaginaries. Deficit is turned into potential. The school transmits and is city making as a practice.

