The eastern end to Töölönlahti by the House of Parliament.
Photo: Helsinki city planning department

The old railway canyon 2008 - situation before
Baana 2013 - situation after

The canyon-like section of the open tunnel.
Photo: Helsinki city planning department

The canyon turns into a green valley.
Photo: Helsinki city planning department

The original granite rock face were retained as much as possible.

Below: Tall grasses have been planted in the shape of freight train wagons. The arrangements serve two practical purposes: to separate paths and ways, and to provide relaxation areas. Photos: Krista Muurinen

Photo: Suomen Ilmakuva Oy