

The Heavenly Hundred Garden is a civic project that defines the idea of uniting the forces of carrying people. The Heavenly Hundred Garden was created by volunteers. The project does not have a sponsor, it is being carried out entirely with kind donations of the citizens.

With common efforts, the historical territory was returned to the city, and instead dump in the center of Ukrainian capital appeared nice square. This project plays a big role in ecological sense. The square is green island between urban landscape. Except ecologically clean products from The Garden, it is also a good exercise for children.

In addition, it is a good place for having rest both for grownups and for children. Different public events collect people in beautiful green place, there they can rest and spend a good time.
