A NEW MEETING PLACE IN SKÄRHOLMEN

This is a part of Skärholmens ambition to develop as a community for young people. Combined with the renovation of the run down green spaces in the area, new investments are made in several different venues. One of them is the Puckelboll field. In the green space corridor from Vårberg IP towards Kungens kurva the second Puckelboll field will be established. The pitch was inaugurated summer 2014.

The primary target group for the pitch is the children and youngsters in the surrounding neighborhoods, whilst the secondary target group comprises children and youngsters from other parts of Stockholm as well as visitors from other parts of the country. The overall target group of children and youngsters includes sports clubs, dancing associations, schools, preschools etc.

After all, the field is an attraction, an experience, a sports ground, a meeting venue, and a work of art. This entails that it has broad fields of application. The pitch is an arena for exhibitions, matches, exercise, performances, picnics, walks, cycling, games and much more. Skärholmen wants to activate and reformulate the site in a new, different way to attract activity in this area and the project is one step in that direction.
