

Situated in the historic landscape of Sabina Hills near Rome, Collelungo Sabino is a small Italian town still conserving its medieval settlements in a rural context. Whilst Italy is so famous for its piazzas - vibrant public spaces of communication - Collelungo Sabino's piazza could hardly be identified as one of those.

Planimetry_Collelungo Sabino's piazza, before the intervention

It was a fairly undefined space abused as a parking lot by cars..

.. leaving little space for the town's citizens!
