
INITIAL PLAN OF THE OLD INDUSTRIAL PLATFORM & DISCOVERY OF THE FLOODGATE RUIN | SITE PLAN WITH URBAN CONTEXT 1:2500

Situated in Romania's western most corner, Timisoara is a typical Central European city. It was surrounded by a huge stellar type Vauban fortification endowed with moat.

On the XVIII century historical city west side an urban regeneration project, City Business Centre, was finalised recently. It replaced several buildings belonging to a textile industry. Instead a brown field, the develoement offers public galleries and plaza, semipublic spaces, halls, foyers, conference centre, commerce and, at uper levels, offices.

On the site of this project, following foundation works, a number of artefacts emerged, defence walls including a XVIII century floodgate used in the defence system around the bastion.
