

ASSESSMENT

With the remodelling of the Requesens Palace Garden, the outcome is a peaceful and contemplative space that lets pedestrians enjoy their surroundings, a green space to be used and experienced in a unique way, an ambience sheltered from city hustle and bustle, a space exclusively for pedestrians.

The Palace Gardens have become a new meeting point in the intensely commercial Molins de Rei historic centre. The gardens are also a leisure space, for terraces and the holding of diverse activities, ranging from events for children to homages to Rafael de Casanova, to whom a small monument was dedicated, which we included at one end of the green area. The palace now has a worthy and dignified space in front of its main façade and a paved area that, like an open-air antechamber, lets groups of people gather comfortably for any event.
