

Can Peixauet's Dome, a new urban and metropolitan centrality

Before the intervention, Can Peixauet's esplanade was a huge and free sports arena mainly used by teenagers to play football and basketball all day long. On the work field, during the research process, Idensitat detected some reluctance from other neighbours to use the space. The intervention generated two connected spaces and transformed the area in a public square where people met and performed other kind of activities (mainly cultural but also other kind of sports).

SNTK BESÒS LAB is a programme of different activities organized by diverse agents with the objective of fostering citizens self management of the space:

- > Activities promoted by Santa Coloma's City Council
- > Activities promoted and organized by Idensitat
- > Activities organized by local entities and collectives
- > Everyday Informal activities

Most of the project's activities centred upon Can Peixauet's dome, located on the esplanade of the sports arena along Can Peixauet Park.

The space BEFORE the intervention

The space AFTER the intervention

